Rebellion Menaces China | McArthur Has Big Majority | Radford Leaves for North

FINAL RETURNS INDICATE McARTHUR MAJORITY 204

Gleichen Bye-election Returns Show That the Agricultural Communities are Strongly in Favor of Premier Sifton's Government —McArthur and Riley Broke Even in the City Polls, But the "Resigning" Candidate Faded Away in the Country Districts.

(Special to The Capital)

Calgary, Oct. 4.—With all the returns in, the election of A. J. McArthur, the Liberal candidate, over E. H. Riley, in Gleichen, is a fact. McArthur has a clear majority of 204. The revised returns are as follows:	Brooks (Maj.)	55	17
Full.	Bow River (Maj.)	33	—
Riley (majority)	Strathcona	14	1
Gleichen	Crescent Heights	119	65
Namaka	Riverside	154	78
Strathmore	Sunnyside	35	99
Chaffee	Hillhurst	14	66
Lampson	Westmount	5	65
Shepard	Totals	1075	871
Albermarle	Majority for McArthur—204.
Maaharj	McArthur polled a stronger vote in the rural districts and railway construction camps than was anticipated by his lieutenants.
Freman	Bow River gave him 33 majority, Brooks 38, Rocky Ford 171, and Gleichen 38, and these polls gave him the victory. Riley, as was expected, developed strength in Sunnyside, Hillhurst and Westmount, his home being located in the end of these districts, but his gains there were offset by McArthur's majorities in Crescent Heights and Riverside, so that the real fight took place in the country.
Rocky Ford	McArthur's strength in the farming sections demonstrated that Premier Sifton's government met with the agricultural approval.

FARMER'S CANDIDATE DEFEATS MAUNSELL; MAJORITY NOW 67

(Special to The Capital)
MacLeod, Oct. 4.—Robert Patterson, the farmer's candidate, was elected yesterday after a very keen battle, by a majority of 67 votes; one poll, that of Springdale, is still to hear from, which will not materially alter the situation.

THEY'RE ALL AWAY

All the cabinet ministers are out of town at present. Premier Sifton went to Calgary yesterday on the occasion of the bye-election in Gleichen and is not expected back for a couple of days. Hon. C. R. Mitchell is in Medicine Hat, while Hon. Arch McLean is also in the south. Hon. Duncan Marshall is in Spokane.

HARRY V. RADFORD LEAVES FOR THE NORTH

To see Harry V. Radford and two companions sitting in a light cor- riage, in front of the Castle Hotel this morning, one would hardly think the party was setting out on a four years' journey into the north country. The outfit was practically devoid of provisions, and had more the look of a shooting party starting out for a few days' holiday. Mr. Radford and one companion will try to reach Fort Smith before the winter sets in, where they will be joined by the third member of the party. In the spring they start out for Chesterfield Inlet on the Hudson Bay. Working northward Mr. Radford intends to proceed right to Alaska and return by the Pacific Ocean, making in all, a four-year trip. Provisions are a big worry on a trip like this, and Mr. Radford is trusting to luck in keeping stocked as well as hoping greatly that he will be tendered government assistance, without which he cannot hope to successfully explore the undiscovered portions of Northern Canada. The above picture shows the flags that the explorer is taking with him. From left to right they are: A Union Jack presented to him by Earl Grey, and made by Countess Grey; flag of the Arctic Club, handed to him by Admiral Vinfield Scott Schley, U. S. N., president of the club, just before leaving New York; the Stars and Stripes carried by Mr. Radford for ten years in different parts of the world. All the flags are of silk, and quite small, for portability.

"SPANK THE BOY" ADVISE OF COURT

Edmund Leeman Paid Fine For Pouring Oil on Eight-Year-Old Boy's Clothes.
BOY WAS INTO MISCHIEF

"I wouldn't Fine You If You Had Spanked Him," Says Magistrate in Police Court.
Edmund Leeman who keeps a store on Ross' Flats, was fined $250 and costs this morning in the police court for spoiling the clothes of a little boy of eight years, by pouring coal oil over him. Mrs. Yerkes, the mother of the boy, said that he came in one night crying and covered with coal oil, and she was not able to discover what the matter was. Afterwards it came out that the boy had been poking a stick through a hole in the fence at a coal oil can, befouling the defendant. "Why did you pour coal oil over him?" asked Mr. Byers. "Well he spit some over me." "Don't you know that a boy of eight years is not responsible for his actions?" "Yes."

HIS BRIDE AGED 70, SO WAS HE; ELOPED

They Ran Away to Get Married for They Were Afraid of Grandchildren.
"WE LOVE EACH OTHER SO"

That's the Explanation They Give—Chicago Couple Break All Elopement Records.
Chicago, Oct. 4.—After living across the street from each other for 40 years Frederick Dahms and Mary Andrecht of Palatine eloped to Arlington Heights yesterday and were married. Mr. Dahms is 70 years of age and his bride is one year his senior.

Opposition on the part of grown grandchildren of Mr. Dahms is said to have been responsible for the elopement of the couple. Early in the afternoon Mr. Dahms called across the street to Mrs. Andrecht, and she came out and joined him in his buggy. Neither mentioned their purpose, but they drove across to Arlington Heights, where the Rev. Charles Noack was in waiting, and in the presence of a hastily summoned friend or two from the neighborhood the ceremony was performed. Then Mr. and Mrs. Dahms returned to Palatine ready to face the final wrath. Mr. Dahms' first wife died a year ago, and since then he and one son have resided together in his residence, one of the most pretentious in Palatine. His other children are married and have moved from beneath the parental roof. Mrs. Dahms had been a widow for fifteen years. "We love each other; that's the only explanation," said Mrs. Dahms when questioned concerning the wedding.

SHERIFFS IN AMBUSH

Called to Girl and Her Brothers to Halt and Then Fired a Shot.

THEY ALL WERE UNARMED

With Bullet Hole Through Her Body, Girl is Taken on Train Journey.

Ashland, Wis., Oct. 4.—Guarded by a deputy sheriff and four deputies armed with rifles, Myra Dietz, the twenty-year-old daughter of John Dietz, arrived here safe at noon and was rushed to St. Joseph Hospital. It was feared that Dietz and her friends would try to rescue her, but the deputies accompanied the train as far as Hayward. She arrived at Ashland, in charge of deputy George Arutun and Mrs. Dunston of Winter. Miss Dietz was shot through the body and suffered greatly. Her condition is critical. No attempt will be made to operate tonight. She has been kept away from reporters since Saturday, but on the way to Ashland she told her story for the first time. "I started for Winter," she said, "Saturday afternoon with my two brothers after the mail. I was sitting on my brother's lap when suddenly we heard the command 'Halt.' At the bushes. The bullet passed my body. It entered my left side and came out of my back close to the spinal cord. "At the same instant Sheriff Madden jumped out of the bushes and ordered Clarence to hold up his hands. He was driving a team of young colts and said he did not dare to drop the lines. A number of shots were fired and Clarence was shot through the arm. My other brother leaped out and the officers fired at him many times as he ran. The officers then handcuffed Clarence and began handcuffing me. I told them I was shot, but the handcuffs were placed on my wrists, but were taken off later. At Winter I was very weak from loss of blood, and as I lay down they read a warrant so me. Neither of my brothers fired a shot and I was not armed. The officers were afraid that my father would come after me and fire on them placed me on a train and took me to Ashland. At Hayward all but one of the deputies left me. I don't know why I should be shot in this way and then be arrested."

McGraw Did Not Invent The Fallaway Slide

Deceptive Method of Stealing Bases Should be Credited to Donnelly

(Detroit News.)

John McGraw is generally credited with being the originator of the "fallaway" slide, but he is not. He is honest enough to give credit where credit is due, and says he got the idea of the famous base-running dodge, sneaky twist, wangle or whatever it may be called, from seeing Donnelly, an old-time third baseman of more or less prominence, who played in several big league teams in his day, but who figured in the later days of his baseball career in the minors.

Donnelly was a good fielder, a crackerjack base-runner and a fair batter. In 1896, when the Baltimore Orioles, the noted three-time champions, were at their best, McGraw was suddenly attacked with typhoid fever and obliged to take to his bed, where he laid for a long time.

McGraw, at the time, was the backbone of the hustling Orioles. He was captain and third baseman, and some say that he was the brains of that sensational team. But those who remember "Eddie" Hanlon as a manager and player will feel like putting a copper on that bit of India rubber imagination.

Donnelly Replaces McGraw.

But say how McGraw's absence from the team meant a whole lot and presented danger. There were not as many substitutes carried in those days as now by the various clubs, and Hanlon was at a loss as to who to put on the bag as McGraw's place. There was no other player on the team who could be shifted without breaking up a winning combination, so Hanlon had to do some hustling on the outside. He finally landed Jimmy Donnelly, and he proved the right man in the right place.

Donnelly had been playing for a dozen years, but he had not begun to go back. He was just the proper kind of player such as the Orioles were. Jimmy was heady, cool, and that was another point in his favor, for the Orioles at the time were the quickest bunch of players on the flannel. Hanlon had no use for any others, but he did keep Walker ("Steve") Brodie somewhere or other, possibly as a foil to show up all the stronger his brainy players.

Donnelly filled McGraw's shoes well; not fully, perhaps, but enough

100 YARDS DOWN HILL IN 8.47 SECONDS

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 4.—Shattering all records for the hundred yards dash on a down grade track and covering the century in the fastest time ever made by a human being, Valdo Throp, the University of Southern California sprinter, Saturday fumed up a mark of 8.47 seconds for the distance. Throp, who is one of the three sprinters selected to represent California in the A.A.U. championships at New Orleans in October, will ask for an official timing for this new sport of running down hill, which he thus developed himself.

EASTERN LEAGUE HITTING

Montreal, Oct. 4.—The batting averages of the Eastern League players show but five players above the .300 mark, Montreal having two, Rochester one and Baltimore two. Three of the five are battery players.

Dubois, the Montreal pitcher, leads the league with an average of .339, made in 53 games, during which he was at the bat 112 times and made 38 hits. Hardly also of the Royals, the crack backstop of the team, holds second place with .325. He has played in 27 games, been at bat 83 times and has made 27 hits.

Big George McConnell of Rochester, comes third with .319. The Rochester twirler hit the ball hard all summer and out of 116 times at the bat, spread through 46 games, hit the ball a safe place 37 times. Heitmueller and Rath, of Baltimore, are the other players within the charmed circle, the former having an average of .312 and the latter .308.

MONTREAL BEAT MCGILL

Montreal, Oct. 2.—The football season opened here on a water-soaked college campus on Saturday, in a match between the McGill A. A. team and McGill. It was more of a try-out for both teams than a match, and when were changed frequently by both sides during the hazy part of the season. The result was in favor of Montreal.

WHAT STARTED N. Y. TROUBLE

Jack Knight and Hal Chase Disagreed Over the Trifling Matter of a Bat

Here's an amusing story of the New York Highlanders.

When the announcement was made to the Yankees the other evening that Hal Chase was the new manager, Jack Knight walked up to Chase, shook hands and greeted him the best he had. The point of this is that the long shortstop and the first baseman have not been on speaking terms for nearly two months.

Why? you ask. Gertrude, the answer is really a shame. You've heard of the sentimental opera singers, and all the rest of that? Well, get this one. It is an excellent side light on ball players.

Two months ago, the Highlanders were playing in St. Louis. Jack Knight picked up a St. Louis bat and weighed it carefully in his hand.

"Nice little stick," he remarked to Bobby Wallace.

"It is and it ain't," returned Bobby.

"It's a jinx. I feel all right; but I can't hit a lick with it. You can use it, if you want it."

Jack took it, and that afternoon with the jinx bat, jinx, by the way, being a synonym for hoodoo, clouted out a triple, two two-baggers and a single. The next day he railed the Brown pitcher for two two-baggers. All the Yankees turned loving eyes on the champion. The next day when Chase was going up to bat he picked it up and started for the plate.

"Black with that stick!" yelled Knight. "I drove out the jinx and you might say it is again. Let the only guy who is going to use it!"

And thus the war started, which was only ended in the Hotel Cadillac Monday night. Can you beat it?

TERRIFIC CRICKET HIT.

Hirst, the Yorkshire cricketer, is said to be developing into one of the biggest hitters in England. In a match at the Oval recently he drove the ball into the press box, a feat which has been accomplished only once before in the annals of that historic cricket ground. Last year, in the course of the Turfbridge Wells week, K. L. Hurlingham swung the ball so hard that when it collided with one of the poles of the press tent it careened about in a most alarming way but without doing harm to any of the occupants.

It is recorded of the late C. W. Alcock, who was in the secretary's office at the Oval, had a bunch of keys knocked out of his hand by a ball propelled from the bat of Bonnor, the famous Australian. All the harm worked by that particular ball was to break the glass in a picture frame.

MONEY COMES EASY THIS WAY

Swindler Collects Coin to Buy Hugh Jennings and Bride New House, and Makes Good Deal.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 4.—Manager Hughey Jennings of the Tigers received new but disagreeable proof of his popularity in Detroit today. Some owner has been circulating among well-to-do people, representing himself as a committee to collect funds to purchase a home for Jennings and his bride. Jennings is to be married in November. Hughey's admirers, without waiting to investigate, jumped at the chance and shelled out checks. Congressman Denby was one of those to fall. He gave $50. Jennings was charged and angry when he heard of the swindle.

MACKIN PICKS ATHLETICS

Johnny Mackin, the diminutive and bassoon of the Lehighville Miners, has been taking a shot at the coming world's series. In the course of a very readable article in the Lehighville Herald, Johnny says:

"On a season's play I would pick the Athletics, but on a short series a few red chips would go down on the Cubs, and there you are. The betting should be even money, fine weather or will favor the Cubs, in cold and stormy weather the Mackmen will thrive best."

Before the game it's a difficult matter to pick the winner. After the games we will all see how the games were lost. Nerve will play an important part. Who has the nerviest team?

PERCY LESEUR FOR HARVARD

Ottawa's Star Goal-Tender is Considering an Offer to Coach the Rah Rah Boys

If the report that comes from Ottawa is true, the former Stanley cup holders may lose the services of their star goal-tender, Percy Lesueur. Lesueur has received a splendid offer to coach the hockey team of Harvard University, and it is possible he may drop out of active hockey and join the list of pro. coaches. The big boom in inter-collegiate hockey across the line has paved the way for professional coaches, and Percy has been asked to name his terms.

The offer appeals to Lesueur very much so it may be up to Ottawa to develop a new goal tend. Smile Benedict, the best goaler in the city league, may be given a chance to make good.

Lesueur has then with Ottawa ever since Wundtlers won the silverware in that memorable battle at Dey's Old Arena, his work has been gill-edged ever since he struck this burg, and his numerous friends here would regret his departure. Percy recently sprang into prominence as an author, handling a very neat little book on hockey, which had a very wide circulation. He formerly captained the Smith's Falls seven and has also played Quebec. As a hockey goaler he broke into the N. L. U. this year, he making a bit while with the Capitals during the latter part of the season.

PUBLIC SCHOOL ROAD RACE

The three mile road race, preliminary to the annual public school games which are to be held at a field day at Diamond Park on Friday, was run off yesterday afternoon. The course lay west from the starting point at the Alexander Taylor School north on government avenue. The first was at the school. The race started at 4.30 p.m. In the senior event the winner, E. K. Hall of the High School, made the excellent time of 17.36. There was a large number of runners in both the junior and senior series.

The first five in the senior class were as follows: First, E. R. Hall; second, W. Pfeiffer; third, C. Stewart; fourth, G. Wagner; fifth, B. Edwards.

The five junior winners were: First, E. East; second, D. Hepburn; third, Mike Boychuk; fourth, George Johnson; fifth, H. Agar.

The start and finish of the race was witnessed by a large number of interested spectators, including several hundred children of the different schools of the city.

On Wednesday afternoon the jumping events of the sports program will be decided at the High School grounds, and on Friday other events on the program will be run off.

TAKE YOUR CHOICE.

When all is said and done, the Athletics and Cubs, on past performances, are up to the mark.

The Cubs have the benefit of experience, having participated in three world's series to date.

The Cubs are veterans who have played together for years.

The Cubs' team work is probably better than that of any team in the world.

The Cubs have infinitely better men behind the bat.

The Cubs are noted for fighting in the face of apparent defeat.

The Athletics have the best pitching staff, and in Coombs the greatest pitcher in the world today. His record of 46 consecutive innings without being scored upon is marvelous.

The Athletics lead the Cubs in hitting and fielding.

The Athletics have the benefit of Connie Mack on the bench, a factor to be counted upon.

The Athletics are younger men and as a team have more speed than the Cubs.

The Athletics can rely upon the sacrifice hit because they have pitchers competent to win with a one or two-run lead.

The base running of the two teams is about even, despite general belief in the Cubs' superiority.

ESKIMOS GET BACK TO WORK

Have Three Weeks to Prepare for Opening Game in Belanger Cup Series

The Eskimos will practice this afternoon at Diamond Park and all players are requested to be on hand at 5 o'clock sharp as Coach Belanger and Capt. Gibson are thinking of making some drastic changes in the line-up. The defeat of the Eskimos on Saturday day did a world of good, inasmuch as it revealed several changes which must be made before the locals will prove a winning combination.

With Rodgers out of the game with a knee, a new middle wing must be found. Changes will be made on the half-line, Dykes probably being moved back from quarter. This means the development of a quieter back and Crickmore and Roughson are likely candidates. McCarty is a fixture as full back.

The first game for the Belanger cup takes place in Edmonton on Saturday, October 22nd, the Eskimos' opponents, being the winners of the Calgary Y.M.C.A.—Tigers series. There will be a big improvement in the locals by that time and they should win.

The regular practices on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday will be resumed, and any likely players who have not yet turned out, are invited to do so. There are many experienced players in the city who are not known to the committee, personally, and these men are asked to get into the game again. Edmonton has a good chance to win the Belanger cup this season, but it is necessary that every available player turn out to practice.

C. H. Belanger has been invited to referee the game in Calgary next Saturday between the Tigers and the Y.M.C.A. It is altogether probable he will make the trip.

Rev. C. F. Holman of Wetaskiwin has written the Edmonton football club, offering his services as referee if required. Mr. Holman is an experienced rugby player of many years' standing. He played on Argonaut seniors in the Big Four and Toronto Amateur Athletic club, O.R.F.U. champions as well as captaining McMaster University in 1908. Was just the official board of referees of the inter-collegiate Union of Canada for some time.

Mr. Holman would be glad to play rugby again but being situated in Wetaskiwin makes him ineligible for either Calgary or Edmonton. However he might make efforts to organize a team in Wetaskiwin, which would add interest to the present schedule.

Whatever may be the judgment on Pierre of the Plains, there can be no two opinions on Mr. Harold Nelson's interpretation of Pierre. His is a difficult part to take, half French, half Indian, with the weakness and strength of both, but Mr. Nelson succeeds in catching admirably the daredevil spirit of a reckless half-breed, of the son of a French father, and giving us a glimpse into the mysteries of the Indian plainsman's character.

The story is simply told. Val Galbraith kills an Indian and in aiding the slayer to escape, Pierre, old Galbraith and Jen Galbraith are involved in exciting adventures, which cause a breach between Jen and her lover, a sergeant in the mounted police force. Her former distrust of Pierre is dispelled and she finally agrees to fly over the border with him.

The play is well staged and acted, but Mr. Nelson overshadows all else. His sprightly French gaiety was taking, while the outburst of passion in the Elk cache scene was unexpected and splendid, and one feels that Pierre is finally vindicated.

Mr. Nelson appeared "out of his role" for a couple of minutes before the last act recalling old times in Edmonton, and the customary kindness of Edmonton theatre-goers. Pierre will be played the first half of the week. The Wolf on Thursday evening.

Wonderful Melba.

Mme. Melba is still a great and wonderful artist; music flows miraculously from her throat. She just opens her mouth, and melody, deep, rich liquid melody, pours out. In days gone by all that was expected of singers was that they should sing. Nowadays we demand much, much more, for divas must chant like night-ingales, dance like fairies, act like a Bernhardt, and with all these accomplishments youth and beauty are looked for as well. Surely we are becoming too exacting.

The audience on Wednesday evening at the Rink will be the most fashionable ever assembled in Edmonton. Some choice seats are still available at Harmony Hall, the booking office for tickets.

At the Lyceum.

The Sherman Musical Comedy company will do. If this aggregation of "laugh merchants" and good lookers don't keep Bill Sherman busy counting "shackles" this season, we give up guessing. The tribe started their tenth week last night at the Lyceum, and all during the evening the audience was kept busy going from one laugh to another. This week's opener is called "A Night Off" and all hands from the 10 "thickens up the line are kept busy in one way or another. Thomas J. Beeson has injected some fine comedy into this thing, and maybe the birds don't work it. The Beeson man fits to and fro as "Patrick Casey," making many laughs and there is more funnier than T. J. when there is any comedy about. Now catch the musical ditties with that bevy of girls in line, there was some class shown there, every number got the first prize, and the blue ribbon goes to Miss Mable Lemoine as she is responsible for this part of the show and she can handle it to the proper caption. There was a couple or three new faces shown last night and from their work we can say that a few more of their kind can join that show any day.

Starland.

Tales of actual life always prove to be an attractive feature in any theatre. "Gold is Not All" was the title of one of these films at Starland last night. It portrays the lives of a rich and a poor couple from the time when love first dawned upon their paths. After ten years we find both families blessed with children but the wife of the rich man is deserted, while the other still revels in her husband's love. National Cash Registers

Complete with
ALL Improvements

During the year 1909 we sold over 105,000 National Cash Registers, which is 24,300, or 30 per cent. more than had been sold in any previous year. April, 1910, output was 13,063 Registers, valued at $1,389,175.

This enormous output was handled without increase in operating expenses. There has always been a demand for a low-priced cash register. Heretofore this demand has been filled with registers lacking certain desirable improvements.

We will no longer manufacture registers without improvements. This simplifies our line and enables us to manufacture in greater quantities.

This all means a big saving in cost of manufacture. We are going to give you the benefit of these savings.

Therefore we have reduced our prices from $10 to $100 each since August, 1909.

Further, owing to our Canadian Plant, we save you 30% duty. This is a big saving to you.

All cash registers made by us will now be equipped with every known improvement, at prices lower than those formerly charged for registers lacking certain features of protection.

Our present line of registers meets every requirement for all classes of stores, large or small, at prices as low as $20.00.

When you buy a National Cash Register you are guaranteed a first-class mechanical principle, first-class material and first-class workmanship. This insures accuracy and durability.

Our Guarantee: "We guarantee to furnish a better Cash Register for less money than any other house in the world," has never been equalled. If you are interested in knowing more about this "Guarantee," or any register we make, sign and send in the coupon. It will place you under no obligation to buy.

Terms Cash, with a liberal discount; or easy monthly payments without interest. All sales F.O.B. Toronto.

Have you to ask questions like these?
You can cut them out, and all uncertainty with them, if you use the

NATIONAL CASH REGISTER SYSTEM

We can prove it.

This National is the Monarch of all Cash Registers. A bookkeeping staff in itself! Gives superb protection—the kind you need! Ensures exactness in all your cash dealings. Separate total and separate cash drawer for each clerk.

HERE'S OUR GUARANTEE

We Guarantee to Furnish a Better Cash Register for Less Money than Any Other Concern in the World

Is Your Business
Handled
This Way?

Your Clerks May Be As Honest As The Day, But Mistakes Will Happen!

When Goods Are Sold From Your Shelves

will the sale be handled absolutely without loss to you?

That's the one question that has caused storekeepers so much worry and money in answering. Thousands of merchants say "Yes, absolutely sure," because they are using National Cash Registers.

A National Cash Register will insure a permanent record of all the goods sold from your shelves.

With a National Cash Register you are sure to get all the money in exchange for the goods you sell. The National is the only register that will do this.

Don't guess—it is costing you more every year than the price of a National Cash Register to guess at this question.

With a National Cash Register in your store, you know, no matter where you are, that you have a perfect mechanical record in the register, under lock and key, of every cent's worth of goods sold from your shelves, whether the purchase be cash, charge, C.O.D., goods carried or delivered.

That's a strong statement. Think what it means to you, all the profit on all the goods that leave your store.

We can prove this. You will be convinced when you understand how it's done.

We manufacture 250 styles and sizes of National Cash Registers. There is one just suited to your particular needs. Prices as low as $20.00. Small monthly payments if desired.

Or Is Your Business
Handled
This Way?

Reduces Error To a Minimum. Protects Profits.

The Connecting Link

BETWEEN YOU AND YOUR PROFITS
IS THE NATIONAL CASH REGISTER

You protect your stock of goods. You check each shipment of goods you receive with the invoice, to make sure you are not "shipped short." You insure your goods against loss by fire.

Your money, when placed in your bank, is reasonably safe.

So far so good. But, how about your money from the time it leaves your customer's hands until it is placed in the bank? How about the hours it lies uncounted and unprotected in your cash drawer?

Mr. Merchant: When your goods leave your shelves all insurance has stopped—unless your present method of handling your business absolutely insures your getting a full dollar in return for every dollar's worth of merchandise sold—unless it positively insures you that a permanent record will be made of every charge sale.

But, does your present method insure you this?

Think this over.

Many merchants go to considerable trouble to protect their goods and to check their bank accounts, but they seem to forget all about their money and accounts in their stores.

A National Cash Register is the connecting link between your stock of goods and your bank account.

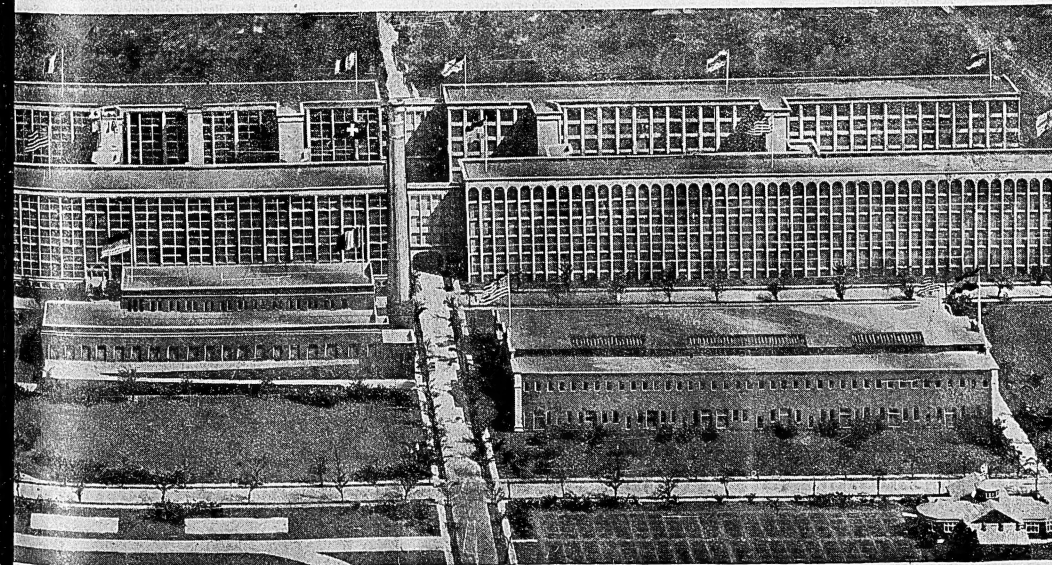

It safeguards your money and accounts against loss.

Without it you cannot hope to bank all your profits.

Over 825,000 persons are using National Cash Registers. Isn't that evidence that you need one?

Prices as low as $20.00. Easy monthly payments, or a liberal discount for cash.

Send for catalogue and prices to-day.

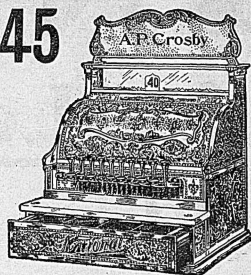

Progress has been the watchword of the Company from the beginning, and ever will be. To this end a large corps of experienced engineers, instructors and inventors are constantly studying the needs of merchants throughout the world and devising new systems to supply these needs. In the factory, inventors and mechanical experts are continually engaged in experimenting with the single idea of improving the product, while from the users of N.C.R. machines the Company is eager to have suggestions and criticisms which will add to the improvement of registers, or business systems in general.

Mr. Leeman deliberated for some time. "I won't pay," he finally announced.

The clerk turned to Mr. Byers: "Is there an objection?" he asked.

"Two-fifty and costs or ten days," Mr. Leeman deliberated again and then said: "Well I'll appeal the case."

"You will have to put up $25 and $2.50 and costs now if you wish so," was the reply.

There followed another period of deep thought during which time Mr. Leeman made his way out of the court and into the office. Slowly he pulled some money from his pocket and sadly paid the fine.

NO WORDS YET FROM OTTAWA ABOUT PEN

No word has yet been received from Ottawa in regard to the city's application for the removal of the penitentiary to another site. When Sir Wilfrid Laurier was here he promised to have the matter considered in cabinet council when the Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, Minister of Justice, returned to the capital from abroad. A definite announcement from the government, however, is expected in a short time.

DID NOT DISTURB SERVICE

The case against Atmicknick who was alleged to have disturbed public worship at Chipman on September 11 was dismissed last night by Inspector Worsley of the R.N.W.M.P. The accused, he held, had not disturbed the worship by using violent language but had simply asked that the service should not be held. The plaintiff was ordered to pay the costs.

The Day in Strathcona

The Rev. J. M. Milne will give an address in the First Church, in Strathcona, on Monday, October 10th, entitled "Dare Religion's Pioneer." There will be a good programme in addition.

The board of management and the senate of the new Presbyterian College will hold a joint meeting, in connection with the principal university, in the First Presbyterian Church, Edmonton, at 10 a. m. tomorrow. The report of the nominating committee charged with the duty of recommending the principal of the new institution will be received and other business relating to the endowment will be attended to.

An exciting scene was witnessed on Saturday afternoon when five of the R. N. W. M. P. were putting a lunatic on board the train at Strathcona. Four of them tried to remove him from the rig while the fifth held the reins. He put up a desperate struggle for freedom until he was inside the coach, after which he gave it up and became quiet.

At his home on Fourth street East Mr. McQuarry is seriously ill with pneumonia. On Saturday when visited by Dr. Green little improvement was noticed.

John Robertson of Edmonton tried by Magistrate Downes for being drunk, was let go on suspended sentence, after paying the costs of the court.

"Gentlemen of the jury, have you arrived at a verdict?"

"We have."

There was a confusion in the hall—abrupt voices and the sound of feet. The crowd stirred, and the judge frowningly lifted his gavel.

"What say you, guilty or not guilty?"

The foreman did not answer. He was leaning forward, looking over the heads of the crowd. The judge stood up. People turned, and the room was suddenly a-rattle with surprised movement. The crowd at the back of the room parted, and up the center aisle toward the judge's desk staggered a figure—a man whose face, ghastly and convulsed, was partly swathed in bandages.

At the door of the judge's room a girl stood transfixed and staring.

The crowd gasped. They saw the familiar profile, a replica of the prisoner's; the mark that slanted across the brow, the eyes preternaturally bright and fevered.

A pale faced, breathless man in clerical dress passed forward through the press as the figure staggered—thrust out his hands blindly.

"Not—guilty, your honor!" he said. A cry came from the prisoner at the bar. He leaped toward him as he fell and caught him in his arms.

The group in the judge's room was hushed in awestruck silence. The door was shut, but through the panels from the courtroom, came the murmur of many wondering voices. By the sofa on which lay the man who

In the soft stillness Harry stood on the doorstep of the hillside cabin for the last time. Below him in the gulch

He dropped on his knees and took her hands and kissed them.

The light glanced and sparkled from the running flume, and beyond glimmered the long street of the town where the dead past of Satan Sanderson had been buried forever and the old remembrance of pain of conscience had found its succor. In the far distance, a tender haze softening their outlines, stood the violet silhouette of the ending rungs, and far beyond them lay Aulston, where waited his sever life, his sever, better work and the hope that was the April of his dreams.

Since that tragic day in the courtroom he had seen Jessica once only—in the hour when the bishop's solemn "dust to dust" had been spoken above the man who had been her husband. One thought had comforted him—the town of Smoky Mountain had never known, need never know, the secret of her husband. And Jessica was far away. About the coming of Hugh injured and dying to his rescue would be thrown a glamour of knight errantry that would bespeak charity of judgment. When Jessica went back to the white house in the aspens she would meet only tenderness and sympathy. And that was well.

He shut the door of his cabin and, whistling to his dog, climbed the steep path where the writhed creeper flung its splash of scarlet and along the trail to the knob, under the needed song of the redwoods. There in the dappled shade stood Jessica's rock statue, and now it looked upon two mounds. The prodigal had returned at last, father and son rested side by side, and that, too, was well.

He went slowly through the brown hollows to the winding mountain road, crossed it and entered the denser forest. He wanted to see once more the dark spot where he and Jessica had met—that deep, sweet day before the ruin awakening. He walked on in a reverie; his thoughts were very far away.

He stopped suddenly. There before him was the little knob where he had stood waiting on the threshold of his palace of enchantment that one resolute morning. And she was there today—not standing with parted lips and eager eyes under the twittering trees, but lying face down on the moss, her red bronze hair shaming the gold of the fallen leaves.

There was a gesture in the outstretched arms that caught at his heart. He stepped forward, and at the sound she looked up, startled.

He saw the creeping color that mounted to her brow, the proud yet passionate hunger of her eyes. He dropped on his knees and took her hands and kissed them.

"My dear love that is!" he whispered.

"My dearer wife that is to be!"
